Conditions of Panic Prevailed Yesterday in the New York Stock Market.

BANK STATEMENT IS STRONG

The Break Could Not be Traced to Condition of Money Market.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 29.—The conditions of distrust in the stock market, which have been growing for some time broke into a furious storm of liquidation to-day and swept away all support. Selling un-der pressure of necessity found practical-ly no demand to meet it and the comprehensive slump in prices was the re-suit. The weakness was multiplied by the decline in prices and many additional offerings: were forced upon the market by lenders of money solicitous for the value of their collateral, by speculators desirous of limiting their losses and by holders on margin, who were forced out by their brokers as the margins were wiped out.

The conditions which resulted were those of panic. The professional bear operators of course added their efforts to aggregate the decline and reaped a to aggregate the decline and reaped a rich harvest in the slump. The violence of the decline, the urgency of the selling and the lack of confidence argued by the small demand to buy at any stage of the declines naturally gave rise to many rumors of financial difficulties.

Nothing developed affecting intrinsic conditions to nocount for the enormous liquidation. The bank statement made a strong showing. The break in the market could not be traced to money market conditions, although next week's heavy requirement received some consideration.

The tone of the closing gave no clear Atchison general 4s.

heavy requirement received some consideration.

The tone of the closing gave no clear evidence that the storm had passed, prices, in some cases, closing at the low-cet with the furious activity unabated.

The extreme losses extend very generally from one to four points and for Buffalo, Rochester, and Pittsburg, there was a decline of 111-4; Northwestern preferred, 9,3-4; Claveland, Cincinnat, Chicago and St. Louis, 8; Atlantic Coast Line; 7:1-2; United State Rubber preferred, 71-4; Niew York Central, 7; and for an extensive list of active stocks, from four to 5:1-2; the latter figure for St. Paul.

Danville, Va., April 29, 1995.

The farmers have been too busy with long-de-layed and much-needed farm work the past week to bring their tobacco to market; therefore, the sales have been quite light. The quality has been rather inferior, and the offerings show a good deal of undesirable rehandled and a considerable quantity of damaged stock. On fresh, desirable tobacco the market has been very firm. Export bright leaf continues to be very active at the advanced prices recently noted. We do not look for any large sales after this, as the crop is now about out of the hands of the farmers. There is about 30 to 15 per cent. of the crop in the old buit still in farmers' hands. Our dealers and brokers report moderate sales of round lots this week.

Norfolk Peanut Market.

NOTIFICIAN, VA., April 25.—The peanut market was dull this week—duller than it has been for the second than it has been to the second than it has been much disposition to reduce the prices, except among the factories and for the cleaned and shelled mus. There is some cutting of prices among the factories, but even that has not estimulated the trade, but even the has not estimulated the trade in the shelled mus in the West or the East.

Three carloads of bunch nuts were offered thay would not take less, and they kept their word. The prices of cleaned peanuts, Virginia and the shelled thay would not take less, and they kept their word. COTTONSEED OIL MARKET. NEW YORK, April 29 .- Cottonseed oil was recovered in two days the entire accline which three weeks of bear hammering effected.

The essential features of the situation are not altered. Goods to the equivalency of 20,000,000 bales of cotton have been sold by the mills since the list of September, 1904. The present crop will supply 14,000,000 bales of these contracts. Six million bales of next year's crop have, therefore, already been sold. Under these conditions, no substantial decline is practicable, and the assurance of at least 12,000,000 bales next year is necessary to a normal maintenance of the world's supplies. As such assurance in regard to next year's crop exists. The indicated acreage is less than that which produced only 10,000,000 bales two years ago, and an exceedingly late and unpropitious start has been further aggravated by the rain and cold weather generally reported from the South to-day. Much is being made by the bears of the weakness in the stock and wheat markets, but a decilne in the stock market is at present really an element of technical strength in cotton. The popular speculation this season has been to buil stocks and sell cotton. A decline in stocks logically, therefore, involves a liquidation by embarrassed speculators of short centracts in cotton. From time immemorial cheap wheat has been regarded as builts argument upon cotton.
